What is the Derby Dash Bash?

The Derby Dash Bash is an annual fund raising event held on the first Saturday in May concurrent with the running of the Kentucky Derby. The money raised helps RHR support our operating expenses such as care of our horses, maintenance of our facility, utilities and employee expenses. Those attending the Derby Dash Bash will enjoy appetizers, drinks, dinner, dessert, live music, a Kentucky Derby race raffle, ladies Derby hat contest, silent and live auctions and viewing of the Kentucky Derby. We are seeking both individual and corporate sponsors, as well as community support through the sale of tickets.

What is therapeutic riding?

Therapeutic horseback riding is a therapeutic intervention used by certified therapeutic riding instructors and allied health professionals for individuals who are physically, cognitively, or emotionally challenged. The three dimensional movement of the horse stimulates the rider to improve mobility, posture, balance, coordination, and responsibility. By successfully participating in riding activities that challenge them, riders gain self-confidence and learn to trust their helpers and their horses. The ultimate goal is to improve each rider's functional abilities and to help them become more independent, productive and active members of the community. The Professional Association of Therapeutic Horsemanship International (PATHIntl, Formerly NARHA) was formed in 1969 to promote the practice of therapeutic riding and equine related activities. PATHIntl is a membership organization that accredits operating centers, certifies riding instructors and therapists, and standardizes safety and operating procedures. There are over 800 member centers in the United States and internationally serving over 42,000 students annually.

What is Rocking Horse Ranch Therapeutic Riding Program, Inc?

Rocking Horse Ranch was founded in 1991 to provide equine assisted activities and equine assisted therapy to children and adults with disabilities in eastern North Carolina. It is the oldest active program in this part of the state, the only one in Pitt County, and one of only 2 PATHIntl programs east of I-95. In the fall of 2003, RHR moved to Blue Banks Farm, which it now operates as a full time, dedicated therapeutic riding facility. Our staff of credentialed therapeutic riding instructors and therapists conducts all of our classes, which are tailored to meet the specific needs of each rider. Lessons are structured to provide each student the assistance he/she needs to be successful while stressing the achievement of maximum independence under safe and controlled conditions. Many able-bodied members of the community are integrated into the program as volunteers assisting the riders during lessons. Riders come from several cities in addition to Greenville, including Wilson, Washington, Kinston, Rocky Mount, Tarboro, and New Bern. Riders' disabilities include cerebral palsy, autism, developmental delay, Down Syndrome, spina bifida, ADHD, visual and hearing impairments, multiple sclerosis, Parkinson's disease, stroke and head/spinal cord injury. Over 70% of our operating budget comes from donations, grants, and fund raising. Thank you for giving your support to this unique program.

Testimonials

Jacob

My name is Jacob and I am 10 years old. This is me at one of my therapeutic riding sessions. I began coming to the Rocking Horse Ranch Therapeutic Riding Program when I was 5 years old. I like coming to my sessions every week because it has helped me do a lot of things better, even some things that have nothing to do with riding a horse! Sometimes it is difficult for me to have a sense of the space around me and how to move with purpose in that space. The instructors and the volunteers have helped me by having me improve my posture on the horse, improve my balance and learn to move in the space around me while riding the horse. They do this with colored rings. They give me directions to extend my arms on either side of the horse and give them the ring they requested. This has helped my muscles get strong so they can allow me to move my body in many directions on request. The horses are gentle and allow me to use my gestures and voice output device to give them directions. It makes me happy to be able to tell the horse to move on. I love the Therapeutic Riding Program and all my instructors.

Joan

When I first became disabled as the result of a stroke about 6 years ago, I missed being active in sports and other physical activities. When a friend told me about the therapeutic riding program, I was amazed that I might be able to ride a horse. But, with the help of the wonderful people who work with the Rocking Horse Ranch Therapeutic Riding Program, I did learn to ride, and I learned from this that there were other things I could do, that I could be more independent and lead a full life. Riding also helps me to get needed exercise and physical therapy.

Tiffany

Our daughter has been a rider since 2000. She has finally connected with a program that enables her to be a child not compared so much with others. She is physically challenged with muscle weakness and sensory integration issues, yet on the horse, under the loving care of her therapists and the volunteers, she gains strength and balance with each lesson. Her confidence level is remarkable, and although physically tired after each lesson, her spirit seems to soar. Equestrian Therapy is so refreshing. On the horse, in the ring, or outside among the beautiful trees and wildflowers, my child seems to spread her wings. She gets plenty of one on one, but in a way that is fun and so "therapeutic". It is unlike any other therapy we have done, from general Physical Therapy at Outpatient Rehab, to Aquatic Therapy, to Speech and Occupational Therapy in the classroom, Rocking Horse Ranch's Equestrian Therapy program really provides the tender loving therapy that animals and people can share with each other in a natural, non-sterile environment.
